

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. # A BOOK OF CHEERFUL CATS

Some Fun with a Toy Spider.

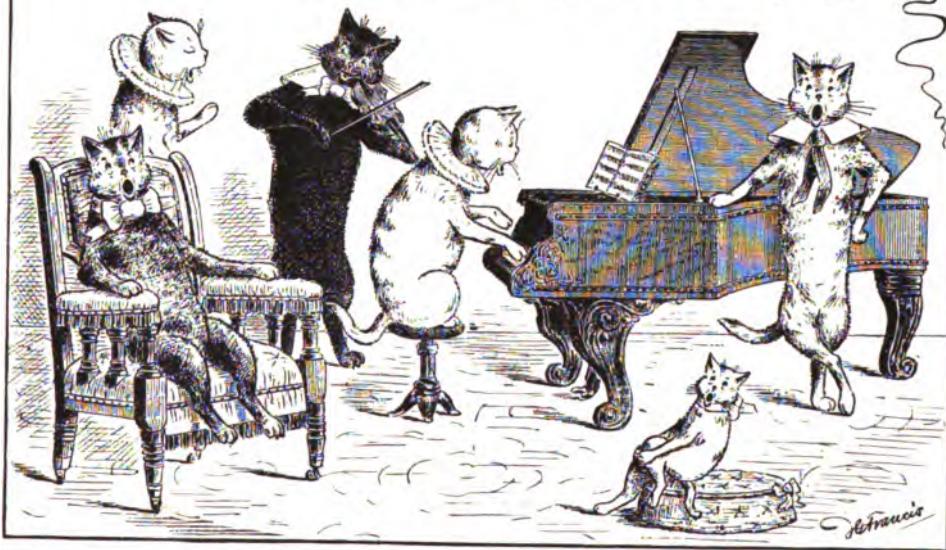

A little Girl asked some Kittens to tea
To meet some Dolls from France,
And the Mother came, too, to enjoy a view
And afterwards play for the dance.
But the Kittens were rude & grabbed their food
And treated the Dolls with jeers,
Which caused the Mother an aching heart
And seven or eight large tears.

Sing, sing! What shall we sing?
The cat's run away with the pudding-bag string

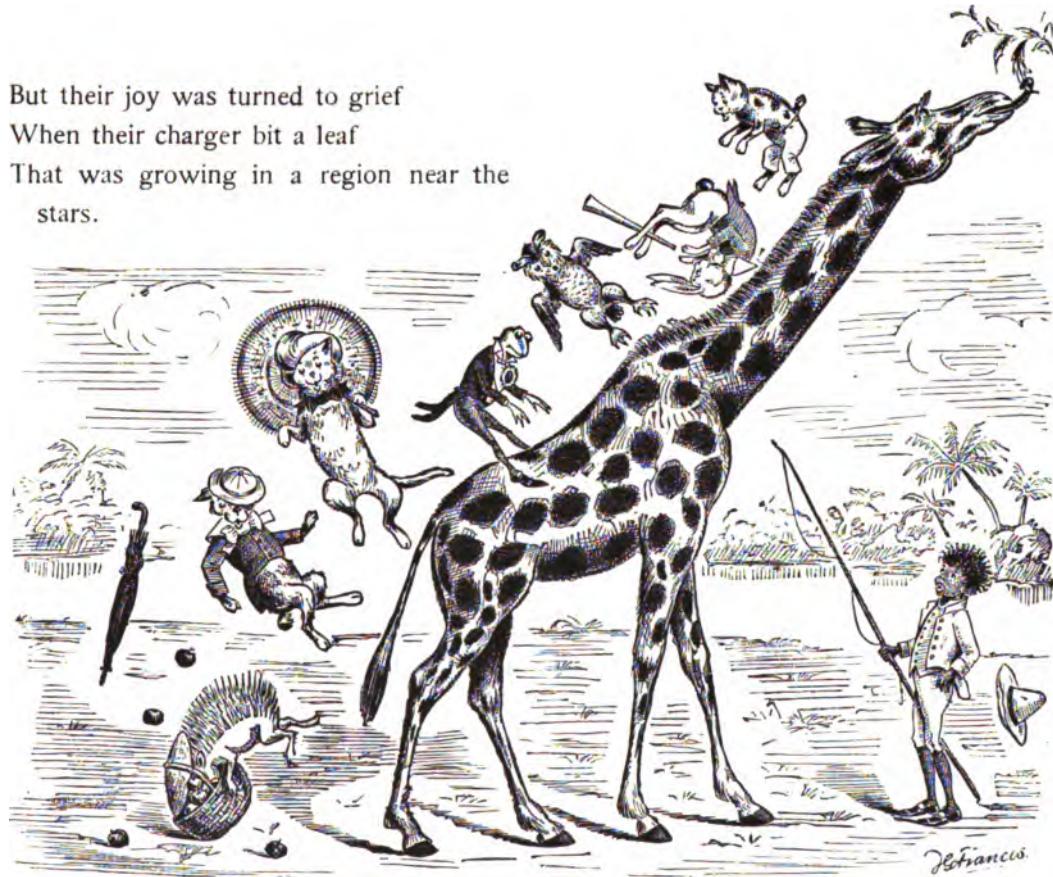

They were happy and did laugh
When their friend, the big Giraffe,
Tried his speed along the highway with the cars,

But their joy was turned to grief
When their charger bit a leaf
That was growing in a region near the stars.

A very Happy Family

The Mother sings a song of youth and May,
The Father doth the festive fiddle play,
Neighbors strolling on the fence
Stop and smile with joy intense,
While the happy Kittens dance the livelong day.

A DUTIFUL PARENT.

Cried a cat to his wife, "See, my dear,
The superlative Circus is here!
With the children we'll go,-'tis our duty, you know,
Their young minds to enlighten and cheer."

The Donkey and his Company.

A desultory Dog once met a discontented Donkey who could form no plans for his summer vacation. "Why not go with me to Bayreuth?" said the Dog. "We 'll hear some music there, besides meeting all our friends."

"Agreed," cried the Donkey; "'t is a happy thought." And they shook hands on it.

On the way they met a fashionable Cat, and also a proud and sensitive young Fowl, who both declared they had long desired to go to Bayreuth. And so the four walked on in company.

About noon the second day they suddenly stopped to listen, for they heard distant music. "That must be the ending of an overture," said the Dog. "I should judge by the sound we were now about three miles from the Opera House."

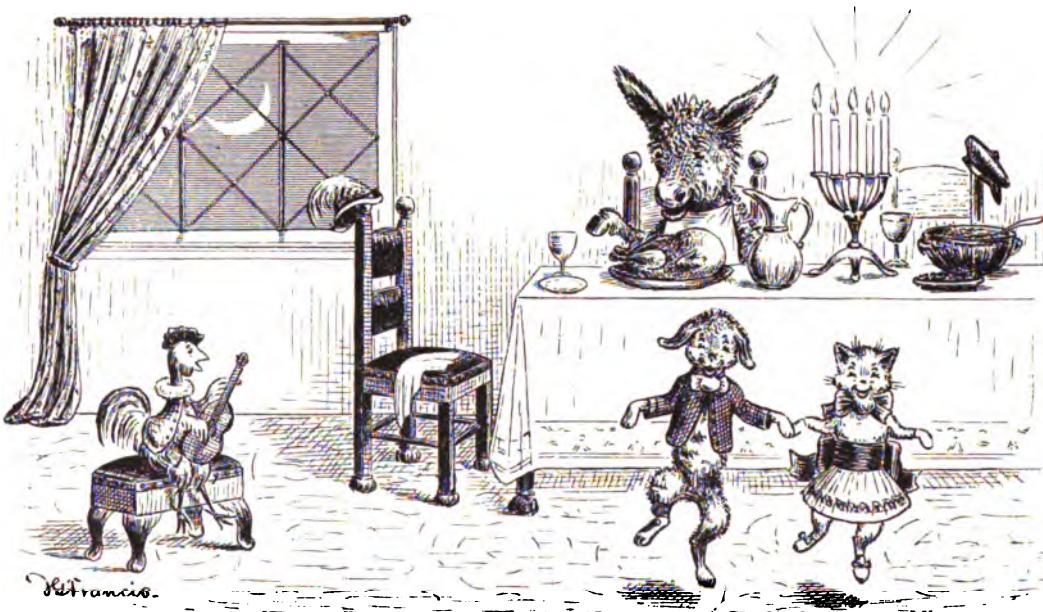

Arriving at the Opera House, they found all the seats were sold, and that they could gain no admittance ; and this so disappointed the sensitive Fowl that the others kindly assisted him to look in at an upper window.

The music which poured from the building now so stirred them that they simultaneously burst into song.

Retrancio.

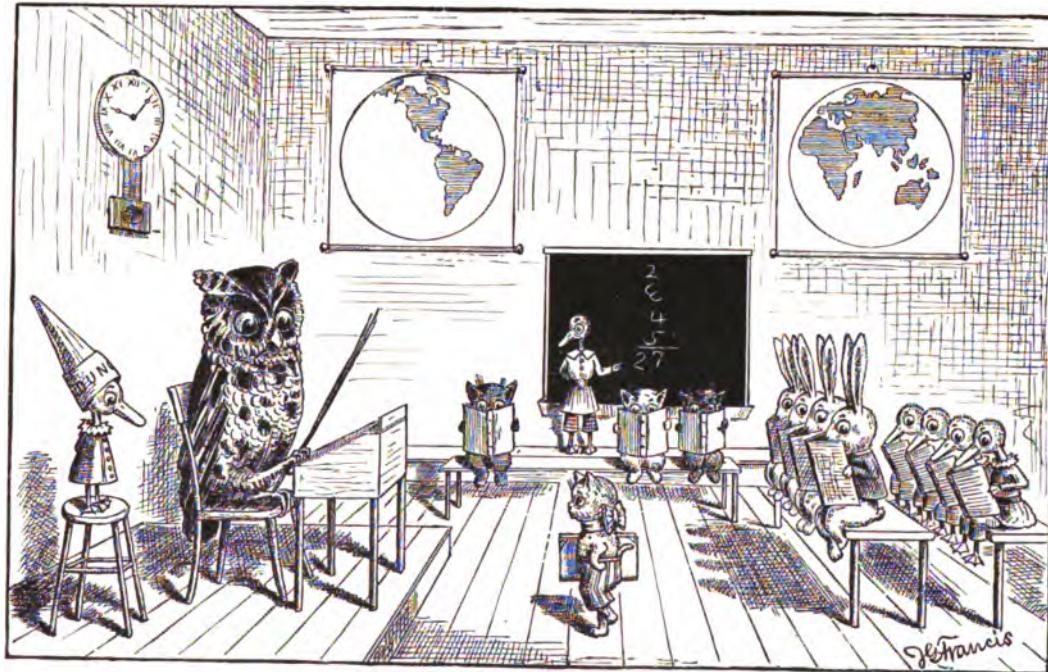

After the opera they all went to the Inn, where they had an excellent dinner, and then spent the evening in happy festivity.

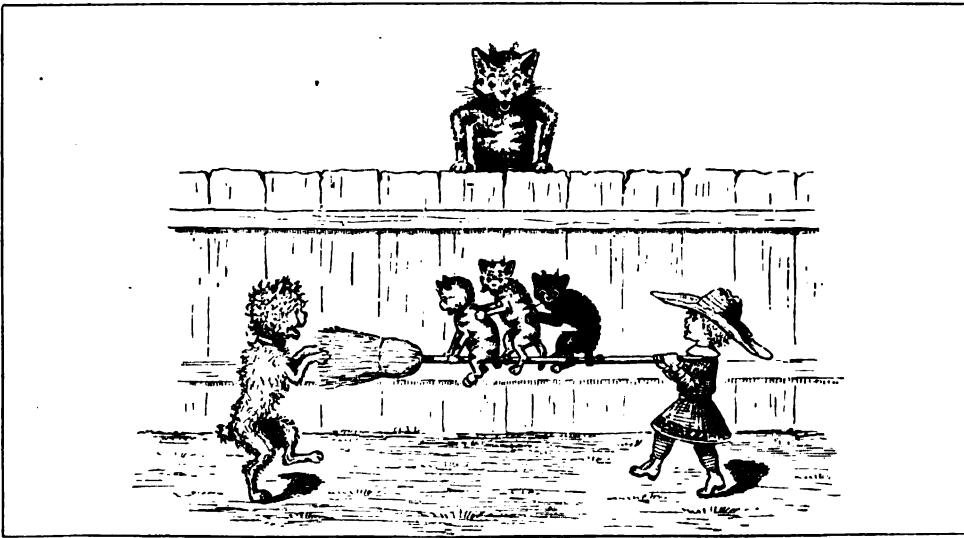

Their musical sensibilities were now so quickened that they resolved to give a concert themselves, which was a great success and aroused immense enthusiasm.

And he said, "I surmise
This occasions surprise,-
But, oh dear, how it tires one's legs!"

Sea Change

They strolled at sunset down the beach and perched upon some piles.
And sang about the Summer Sea - which then was out for miles.
By eight o'clock the Summer Sea was flowing towards the shore.
And then, I think, they all got down and sang of it no more.

A Medical Opinion

The Infant Camel felt depressed.—
A case of doleful dumps.
The Doctor said, "It seems to me
His back has got the mumps."

This diagnosis did divert
The Nurse, a Kangaroo.
And she did tell it to the Cat,
And he smiled somewhat, too.

A Needless Apprehension.
